FAVORS INQUIRY ON DEFECTIVE CHILDREN

Assemblyman Reinhardt Asks for an Investigation to Show Need for New State Institution.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Madison, Wis., March 16.—An investigation of the education of children physically or mentally defective or subnormal is proposed in a bill of inquiry introduced by Assemblyman Reinhardt. The bill is introduced in the name of the governor, who is empowered by its terms to appoint a committee of six members, three to be superintendents of schools and three to be teachers of defective children. The committee is to make a report on the number of defective children in the state, the state board of control, it is said, is to be introduced to ascertain the necessity of creating a home for defective children, as proposed by Senator Cunningham. The committee must make its report not later than the third week in January, 1917. The bill provides for a broad investigation including a report of the number of children in the state physically or mentally defective, attending both public and private schools. The work now conducted by the state tax commission in the auditing of the financial statements of town treasurers and the installation of proper accounting systems is sought to be discontinued by a bill by Assemblyman Reinhardt. The bill repeals a clause in the present law which requires reports to be sent to the state on the amount of taxes collected, and other purposes, and the expenditure of public funds for all purposes. Assemblyman H. J. Grell of Johnson's Creek has a bill to repeal the appropriation of $250,000 for a medical or physical building at the state university. A similar bill in the senate recently was given a hearing. Senator Staudenmeyer believes that the town boards and common councils should be given power to regulate Sunday closing. His bill provides that the common council or village board shall regulate the opening or closing of stores and the conduct of dances or other public diversions on Sunday. It also repeals the law requiring barber shops to close Sunday. Assemblyman B. N. Moran, Oneida county, is the author of a bill to eliminate the frequent filing of campaign expense accounts just before the filing of one account just before the primary and one immediately after the election. Senator Everett has a bill to amend the law providing for the election of city engineers in cities of the second and third classes.

SKOGMO INTRODUCES BADGER PEACE PLAN IN STATE ASSEMBLY

Resolution Urging President to Call a Conference of Neutral Nations Brought Before Legislature.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Madison, Wis., March 16.—What has become known as the Wisconsin peace plan was presented to the legislature of Wisconsin last night in the form of a memorial to the president. Senator George B. Skogmo, River Falls, introduced a joint resolution urging the president to call a conference of the neutral nations of the world with a view of promoting peace in Europe. The plan was first formulated by Miss J. G. Wale of the English department of the University of Wisconsin and was presented at a peace conference held by the Chicago Peace society a short time ago. Since then it has been enthusiastically endorsed by Dr. David Starr Jordan, Hamilton Holt, Mrs. Percy Penneybacker and others of note in this country.

The resolution was referred to the committee on legislative procedure in the senate. Senator Skogmo's request that it be taken up Tuesday met objection from Senator Hanson. The resolution reads: "Whereas, there is now being waged a war of hitherto unequalled intensity which is weakening the stamina of the entire world, and tending to the social and intellectual progress of all nations, neutral and belligerent alike; and whereas, the bitterness between the warring peoples engendered of this strife makes it virtually impossible for the nations engaged, if left to themselves, to open communications looking to peace; and whereas, the wisdom and universal brotherhood of the twentieth century should in the name of our common humanity seek to find a reasonable solution of the questions involved in the present war before either side is reduced to exhaustion; and

Whereas, we believe in view of the ever increasing tragedy of this war that active efforts should be made to the end, first that the warring nations should be given the opportunity, without fear of compromise or loss of dignity to consider the possibilities of bringing the war to a close on an honorable basis, secondly, that the people of the neutral nations who are appalled at the destruction being wrought and who desire out of the deaths of their hearts to help their suffering brethren in both sides of the conflict should be given an opportunity to do so; and

Whereas, the plan here proposed offers a fair and equitable method of bringing each nation and each belligerent alike free to act as circumstances may demand; would judge no one, dictate to no one, and would endanger the neutrality of no nation, would maintain the moral forces of the world, and without loss of time bring them to bear on a problem of unparalleled magnitude, and would offer to the warring powers an opportunity to consider all possible pathways to peace without involving humiliation to any or committing to an arbitrary program; therefore

"Be it resolved, by the senate, the assembly concurring, that the plan for continuous mediation without armistice here proposed by the Wisconsin Peace society and adopted by the National Peace conference at Chicago in February, be respectfully recommended to the attention of the president of the United States, and that the senate and assembly of the state of Wisconsin respectfully urge the president to call a conference of the neutral nations to sit throughout the war for the purpose of continuous and independent mediation with or without armistice, and if necessary, without the specific permission of the belligerents; such conference to consider and submit simultaneously to the proposition based on principles most favorable to the establishment of a permanent peace, and to continue to seek by the method of simultaneous proposals and by inviting suggestions from the belligerents some basis of settlement which may appeal to all as worthy of consideration. The resolution concludes with the direction that a copy be sent to the president and to the speaker of the house and president of the senate.

TELLS OF HONOLULU TO LOCAL FRIENDS

Fred Hutchinson, Jr., Writes of Life in Island.—Now at San Francisco to Visit Fair.

Fred Hutchinson, Jr., a son of former Mayor Hutchinson of this city, has arrived at San Francisco following a visit of two months at Honolulu. As Mr. Hutchinson has a large number of friends in Janesville and as he writes interestingly of one of the important island possessions of the United States, his letter to a local friend here will no doubt be read with interest by many who know Mr. Hutchinson personally. His letter follows:

San Francisco, Cal., March 8, 1915. Editor Janesville Gazette.

Just a line or two from California. Arrived last Friday from Honolulu where I spent two of the most delightful months of my life.

Honolulu is a beautiful city and modern in every respect. Its buildings are all modern, and also the new buildings being built are of reinforced concrete. Its streets are wide and clean. But most of all, Honolulu is in fact the entire group of the Hawaiian islands, are noted for their wonderful climate. It is wonderful when one thinks that it does not vary for 5 cents in the summer. In fact, it is always summer. Have several pictures which I will send you as soon as I get my grip.

Last Saturday I saw the Vanderbilt cup race, which was very exciting on account of the course which was short and had so many turns. The exposition as far as I have seen is wonderful. Of course as yet there are some buildings which are unfinished. Every day the same big crowds come, but they are mostly California residents, for very few people have come from the east.

All the hotels from the east are full and also the restaurants; of course I mean the better class, for one still can get 5 doughnuts and a cup of coffee for 5 cents in a cafe. Everything is on a boom here now and even nature seems to lend a hand as all the trees are in blossom and the weather is just what will drop you a line later and send some views of the fair and of the islands.

Yours very truly, Fred Hutchinson, Jr.

Coughs and Colds should not be trifled with, as they may lead to something serious. Have a bottle of Allen's Compound always ready in your medicine chest. It may save you many a dollar and your health.

Mr. Patterson will have something to say on the temperance question. His lecture will be of an educational and instructive nature and will not be construed to stir up any active agitation on the license question for campaign purposes, according to the statement of one of the committee members. The members of the arrangements committee are: O. D. Antisdel of the Baptist church; F. S. Baines, Congregational; F. W. Drake, Christian church; F. E. Beard, Methodist; B. T. Winslow, United Brethren; and G. W. Athon, Presbyterian. Packers made a strong finish to yesterday's hog market, with current quotations about the highest in six weeks.

Choice swine reached $7, or 40c above low day of a year and $1.85 below corresponding date in 1914. Receipts for today are estimated at 4,000 cattle, 25,000 hogs and 10,000 sheep, against 4,182 cattle, 24,911 hogs and 9,188 sheep a week ago and 2,188 cattle 17,519 hogs and 2,683 sheep corresponding Tuesday a year ago.

Cattle Range Narrow. There was little change in the cattle market, the kind worth between $6 and $7.50 selling to best advantage. Choice beefs were scarce, but the shipping demand as yet is indifferent. Best offerings, 1,040@1,145 lbs., sold at $5.55@5.65. Price range is $1 narrower than a few weeks ago. Quotations:

Bulk of sales... $6.85@6.92 1/2.

THE STATE FAIR.

The state board of agriculture is again seeking to secure the quarter of a million dollar appropriation passed by the 1913 legislature for the further improvement of the state fair park at Milwaukee. This money was promised if the Milwaukee county supervisors made good their promise to make an appropriation of funds to purchase needed grounds for the state fair park, that it might be retained in Milwaukee. Senator Charles Everett of Racine, who is a member of the state board of agriculture, and was a member of the legislative investigation committee, stated at a hearing before the senate finance committee a day or two ago, that if the Milwaukee county board had not made this promise the fair would have been moved from Milwaukee two years ago. They failed to make good and the present legislature is liable to rescind the appropriation. In fact with the present probable shortage in the state treasury June 30, it is not plausible that they would do anything else. But to return to the subject. Why should Milwaukee have the fair anyway? The location of the present grounds, while they represent, according to the Evening Wisconsin, $312,000, which property is now worth three times that much, is such that it takes as long to reach them from the Grand avenue bridge in Milwaukee by electric car as it does to ride from this city to Janesville by steam cars. This is a fact and one that is not contradicted. If the Milwaukee property is worth three quarters of a million for heaven's sake stop putting any more state money into a mud-hole, sell the property and take the fair away from Milwaukee, which admits that it does not want it, but that it is the only city that can take care of it, and place it in some agricultural district that it will want it and where it can be a fair for the people and conducted by the people in their own right and not in those of a few vaudeville agents and experimental governmentalists. There are lots of locations where it could be placed. Madison, Oshkosh, anywhere in fact where there is not water and beer on one side, and the whole state on the other. Where trains run daily for the accommodation of fair patrons and not for the benefit of hotels and lunch rooms down town.

The real purpose of the holding of a state fair is to promote the agricultural, horticultural, dairying and live stock interests of the state. How far the present state board will go in that direction is evidenced by the fact that already the announcements are made for the state fair, and the vaudeville performances and requests for appropriations from the state, and nothing said about the farm exhibits. Milwaukee does not want the fair, but is willing to take it to help the state out providing the state will finance it for them, as it is the only city in the state that could handle the crowds. Piffle! The state fair would be improved if taken away from Milwaukee and the sooner the tail of the dog learns it does not wag the entire state the better.

OUR RIGHTS.

The Wall Street Journal says of the Eitel Frederick case and our rights in this important controversy:

"According to press dispatches, Washington is in a quandary over the sinking of the William P. Frye. Is it an act of piracy? Shall legal proceedings be instituted against the German cruiser Prinz Eitel Frederick to recover damages? 'Precedents and legal decisions are being studied,' to determine the status of the case.

"International law has suffered severely in this war, but yet the United States is an advocate of law even in war. Even if the powers should break every rule of law, the United States could not afford to descend to the same level of lawlessness. Therefore, it is to be assumed the United States will be guided by the law of civilized nations, and thus prove its own claim to civilization.

"One of those rules of civilization is that only private vessels can commit piracy. If a naval vessel commits an unjustifiable wrong, no matter how flagrant a violation of the laws of civilization, it is not piracy. The aggrieved neutral (if it respects law itself) must demand reparation of the flag state of the offending vessel.

"Neither is a naval vessel in the ports of another power liable to libel or attachment. It is a public vessel, and an attempt to attach it would be an affront to its sovereign. Such a proceeding could not be instituted in our courts, unless we are prepared to throw all law to the winds, and ride roughshod over all international decrees. Such a course would have to be backed up by force.

"The proper course for the United States to take is to make demands on Germany for full reparation for the damages and insult, and request that power to punish its naval officer. It is probable that Germany would promptly comply with the request. But there should be no mistaking the position of the United States."

NO DISCRIMINATION.

There should be no discrimination as regards the three women who were arrested on Saturday with hundreds of dollars worth of valuable goods in their possession stolen from local stores. They should be given the limit that the law provides. That they were not novices at the game is evidenced by the preparation they had made for handling the loot they obtained and the manner in which they went to work to gain possession of it. Specially made skirts with rubber bands instead of tight-fitting blouse effects. Loose necks to flowing waists, dress suits made to fill with the results of the raid and the fact that the stolen goods were found placed where they hid them is evidence enough to convict them in any court.

chants should not be too lenient with such a class of customers. All well and good that they received their goods back through the diligence of the police, but the microscopists should be punished as a lesson to others. That is what the law is for. It is hard to ask for the conviction of a woman, but then there are times when they forget their sex and the merchant should stand his ground and do his duty to the community. If they are let free, if their sentence is but a nominal fine for lack of prosecution, what hope can the citizens have for the future efficiency of the police if they are called upon to act in other emergencies. Let the punishment fit the crime and let the result be a warning to all concerned that to trifle with the organized arm of the law is dangerous. If not, what hopes have the merchants against future raids on their stocks when they are not prepared to secure the return of the goods. Of course it is their right to state their position in the matter, but the district attorney should be firm in insisting upon a rigid prosecution and the judge should not hesitate to hand out a sentence that befits the enormity of the crime consummated. Meantime the Janesville police department should be congratulated upon their handling of the matter and in view of the fact the Rockford chief said he had been watching them for two years without securing evidence, it bespeaks the efficiency of the Janesville department.

SANITATION.

Already the cry has gone forth throughout the city of "Swat the fly!" Earnest advocates of a clean city have gone forth upon the highways and byways and preached sanitation. There is nothing like it. Upon the question of sanitation rests the health of the entire community. The city council has ordered the raceways and river-banks cleaned of the dying carp that come to the surface in thousands and threaten the safety of the city. Some mysterious disease is killing them off and they die by hundreds and tens of hundreds. Property-owners are urged to clean up their lots and prevent breeding places for flies and other disease-spreading vermin, and yet the city itself takes no action. By this is meant the protection of the pupils in the public schools. Surrounding the old Lincoln school are many breed-germinating holes. On Monday a party of gentlemen dined at the Grand hotel, facing the alley that adjoins the Lincoln school. Inside the school yard was a wagon hauling out the manure from a barn located on the alley. The manure was pitched over the fence into the wagon. A closer inspection showed huge piles of ashes, tin cans and the winter's refuse piled promiscuously about. If there could be a better breeding place for flies than this alley it would be hard to find. Yet the cry goes forth "Swat the fly!" Really the conditions just now are not as bad as they will be later in the summer when the windows of the school-rooms are open for ventilation. Then the odors will be something that will be sweet to smell. This condition existed last spring and summer and the attention of the school board was called to it, but attention of the health officer was called, by the way, also being a member of the school board, and still they existed. However, "Swat the fly!" Perhaps the same conditions do not exist elsewhere in the vicinity of other school grounds. Let us hope not.

Italy is preparing, through its diplomatic channels to enter the present European war. It had long planned to do so at the opportune time, and now with the spring breaking, with the summer coming before them and the allies in a position to grant instead of demand, Germany and Austria worn by months of hard fighting, Italy can launch a fresh army into the field, with a small amount of fighting and a loss of but a few men gain coveted territory. No wonder they are ready for war.

Dr. Cook is in Milwaukee. Now he plans not an expedition to the North Pole to substantiate his claim to discovery, but to promote a North Pole fur-bearing ranch. Good old Doc is always there with a bit of something to make the pockets jingle—for Doc.

Just what will be the outcome down in Mexico is still doubtful, but it is safe to say that whatever is doing the next time the bluejackets land on Mexican soil they will not be as lenient as they were before, Bryan or no Bryan, "Watchful, Waiting Woodrow" or not.

ASSOCIATION TEAMS CONSIDER PROSPECTS

Changes Will be Made on Minneapolis Team.—Trouble Experienced at St. Paul.

(By Tim Sullivan.)
St. Paul, Minn., March 16.—With the baseball season approaching, the association is as still as a graveyard. Many a whisper is heard about the prospects of the club and there seems very little interest in whether there is a club. John W. Norton, who owns an option on the club, threatens every few minutes to sell it to Toledo, but he has not apparently connected.

Over in Minneapolis there will be much young blood in the team. The veterans who won four pennants and made a strong bid, but finally slipped in 1914, are about all gone. Tannehill has been released to Los Angeles, and Joe Lake has been released outright. These marked the last of the old timers.

Pitchers are wanted by Kansas City. Bill Armour has threatened to take some of young blood under his wing on the training team. Brief and Roth have been lost since last fall. "Lefty" George and Ralph Works have been added to the staff. Jack Leifelt of Cleveland has also been added. The only twirler on the staff upon whom the fans bank, Armour has two pitchers coming from the White Sox on the Roth deal, however.

Out in San Diego, California, the Indians are making what is being looked forward to with hope. President McGill says that facing the strong competition of the Indianapolis Reds, that he will put up against a proposition of putting up a flashy team, or getting behind some $40,000. Reilly, Crandall, Brockie, Metz, Blackburn, Willie, Merz, and Guard and Burk are about the only ones that look absolutely sure to re-appear from last years team. Bucher and Denver probably will be in uniform. He plays the gardens.

With Shortstop Jack Knight having supplanted Jimmy Sheppard as manager, and showing lots of managerial pep, the Cleveland fans hope that he will put up a team that will go at a faster clip than ever before. Kirk, Knight, Perzold and Bassler will be in the line. James, Kahler, Haggerty, Dillingham, Osborne, Brown, and Brown. Carter will be tried on the mound.

Securing a second baseman to replace McLarry is worrying the management of the Louisville club. Burns, Burch, Eumiller and Jorgenson have been given their liberty. Derrick, Stansburg, Platte and Osborne came back.

Little change will be made in the twice pennant team from Milwaukee, where the signs, "English spoken here," adorn the front of shop windows, although there may be a slight shift in the outfield. The cause of the vacancy of Welsh, Slapnicka, Hovelick, Young, Cutting, Shaleford, Daugherty and Miller are promised for the mound, while Hauer, Light and Malloy will make the other end of the Brewers' batteries.

There's a dubious shade about the Senators, over in Columbus. Many stars are twined out. Tim Lincecum and Spooks Gerber go to Pittsburgh. Syd Smith will be given his chance with the Pirates. Even Bailey has a bum leg and the fans are not betting on him, the last hope.

FIVE FIGHT BILLS UP IN SPRINGFIELD

All of Measures Call for Ten Round Contest With Commission Rule Similar to Wisconsin Law.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Chicago, March 16.—Every legislator has a fight bill all his own, might be an appropriate parody on the popular "Every Little Movement" melody down in Springfield. There are five bills known to be ready for the legislative grist long before the Illinois solons in the lower house finally got together after a record breaking deadlock, elected a speaker and organized. All provided for legalizing the glove game in Illinois. All provided for a commission. Some were almost similar to the New York Law. Others want boxing in Illinois under conditions similar to the method of holding fights in Wisconsin. All call for a 10-round limit. When the sessions gets going good, the five bills mentioned, are expected to be augmented by as many more.

The one point on which there is wide difference of opinion among the dozen or more legislators who are known openly to favor a boxing law in Illinois is the matter of decisions. There shall be decisions. Fight promoters and others interested in legalizing boxing in the state are expected to get together within the next few weeks and concentrate on one bill. Governor Dunne has steadfastly refused to state his position in the matter. It is believed, however, that if the house and senate put the bill through, the Illinois chief executive will sign it.

TWO TITLE-HOLDERS CLASH WEDNESDAY

Gunboat Smith Boxes Jack Dillon Ten Rounds in Milwaukee Tonight—Week's Boxing Calendar.

Milwaukee fight fans have a treat or mistreat tonight when Gunboat Smith meets Jack Dillon, the Hoosier middleweight, for ten rounds. Smith still claims to be the bearer of the white hope standard and Dillon is a most dangerous boxer, few caring to give him an argument. They will box at catchweights.

Gunner Smith has been out of the limelight since his defeat by Sam Langford, tar-baby in a Boston ring, and his prestige has suffered greatly. His record bristles with K. O. among the white hopes, but meet a defeat against Carpenter, the French champion, at London, he holds a victory over Willard. Dillon is considered the most dangerous rival remaining against Gibbons in the middleweight division.

On Wednesday night Kilbane and Williams, two champions will mingle in Philadelphia for six rounds. Rival promoters, who were both bidders for the fight, will have a side battle for McGinn who lost the match to Edwards. He has staged a match between Clabby and Young Ahearn, the New York dancing master. The week's card is as follows:

Gunboat Smith vs. Jack Dillon, 10 rounds, at Milwaukee, Wis.
Gus Christie vs. Billy Miske, 8 rounds, at Milwaukee, Wis.
Mike Hirsche vs. Eddie Franke, 6 rounds, at Milwaukee, Wis.
Billy Wagner vs. Hal Stewart, 10 rounds, at Fort Wayne, Ind.
Wednesday, March 17.
Johnny Kilbane vs. Kid Williams, 6 rounds, at Philadelphia, Pa.
Jimmy Clabby vs. Young Ahearn, 6 rounds, at Philadelphia, Pa.
Charley White vs. Sammy Robb, 6 rounds, at Philadelphia, Pa.
Eddie McGinn vs. Buck Grouse, 6 rounds, at Pittsburgh, Pa.
Gus Christie vs. Eddie Nearing, ten rounds, at Plattville, Wis.
Harvey vs. Johnny Griffith, ten rounds, at Akron, O.
Roger O'Malley vs. Johnny Schultz, ten rounds, at Toledo, O.
Frankie Kirk vs. Kid Harrison, ten rounds, at Goldfield, Nev.
Thursday, March 18.
Joe Weiling vs. Jack Doig, 10 rounds, at Kenosha, Wis.
Mike Snyder vs. Bobby Scanlon, 8 rounds, at Kenosha, Wis.
Friday, March 19.
Mickey Sheridan vs. Johnny Lore, 10 rounds at Saginaw, Mich.

HIGH SCHOOL SQUAD READY FOR TOURNEY

Blue Tossers Await First Game at Milton After Practicing Monday Afternoon at Auditorium.

The Janesville high school basketball squad are ready for the Milton tournament, which opens in the College gymnasium Wednesday afternoon. Without Richards, the players are going to make a desperate attempt to win the tourney, despite their coming game with the Beloit.

The team closed their drilling Monday afternoon, when a half hour scrimmage was held in the rink auditorium. A long rest until tomorrow should enable the five to take the first battle in easy fashion, and with the use of the substitutes. The team will leave tomorrow morning for Milton to be on hand at one o'clock when the pairing for the first struggles will be made. It is expected a good delegation from Janesville will go up for the game if it is played Wednesday night. School will be in session here tomorrow afternoon, so that a good representation in the afternoon, of Janesville plays then, will be impossible.

Manager Herzog is continually springing something novel. This is the latest: Trick practice, working new and unexpected ideas, both to steal bases and to stop people from stealing them. They will be tried out at Alexandria. Charlie Doorn will be the professor, with Herzog serving as the goat. In other words, Buck will try to show how an up-to-date base runner can hook bases, and "Red" will try to show how an up-to-date catcher can stop it. The duel will be regarded with great interest by the younger Reds.

"ATHLETICS WORKED WONDERS FOR U. S." DECLARES "FATHER OF AMERICAN SPORT"

Harry E. Buermeyer.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
New York, March 16.—"Athletics has worked wonders for America," declared Harry E. Buermeyer, "physically, morally and mentally. From a weak, undersized, narrow-chested people to a strong, healthy and agile race has been the transformation since the American youth took up athletics fifty years ago."

Thus spoke Harry E. Buermeyer, "Father of American Athletics," the man who with the late William Curtis is the first man who wore a spiked shoe in the United States, who in the early sixties was the best all around athlete in America, and who in his days won more than a score of championships. Today Mr. Buermeyer at seventy-six is hale and hearty, and still able to indulge with zest in several different forms of athletics.

"We founded the New York Athletic club in 1868," he continued, "our boys, especially those attending college, were pale, weak, long-haired youths of the type one might now see in the foreign settlements of this country. Or, on the other hand, they were stout and bright they were big, but without enough flesh, bone and muscle to enable them to long pursue their studies."

"Of course there were many big healthy fellows, but the average boy of those days was a weakling compared to our boys of today. I have watched carefully the physical progress of our athletes, and I am thoroughly convinced that the American of today is a much stronger and healthier type of man than when athletics became a sport in this country. It is better mentally and morally. Better physique has made him better able to master, mentally, more serious and bigger problems, and athletics has made him lead a cleaner and simpler life. "But there is one thing wrong with our present system of athletics and I think it should be remedied at once. Our boys begin active competition when they are too young. Elementary schoolboys should be barred from hard competitions. "It hurts their hearts and deprives them of greatness on the track or field which they otherwise would attain, and besides they might suffer ills that may prove injurious to them the remainder of their lives."

"I have seen tiny youngsters run in races when they should have been playing tag," and I have seen them finish a race so nearly exhausted that I pined for their little hearts. It wasn't so much the strain of the race that affected them; the exhaustion of near exhaustion—came as a result of the training. I am told they had done in preparation for the race. That sort of thing should be stopped, and stopped immediately. If the boys want to race, let them do so, but it should be done without training and only when they are in a condition that will not sap their vitality or injure their vital organs."

"I know of at least a score of boys who, while at school, promised to develop into world beaters, only to find that when they reached college they had lost strength and been relegated to the third or fourth rate class. I think these boys failed to develop because they had strained themselves by competing when they were too young."

MORRIS MILLER

Hughie Jennings believes there is no use teaching a man a trade he won't ever get a chance to work at. For that reason, Jennings isn't asking any of his Tiger pitchers down at Guilford, Miss., to become expert base stealers. Every other player on Jennings' team, however, is hitting the dirt daily in sliding pits. Last season the Tigers ranked fifth in stealing sacks. Jennings says he's bound to make a gang of base burglars out of his men this year.

The good old sailing game is enjoying a revival in the east, according to Thomas Fleming Day, the famous New York skipper. Day declares that the motor boat clubs of the east are convinced that there is a real sport in motor boat racing and are promoting one-design sail yachts. In time most of the power boat organizations will have fleets of "wind-jammers." Day is at present touring the west.

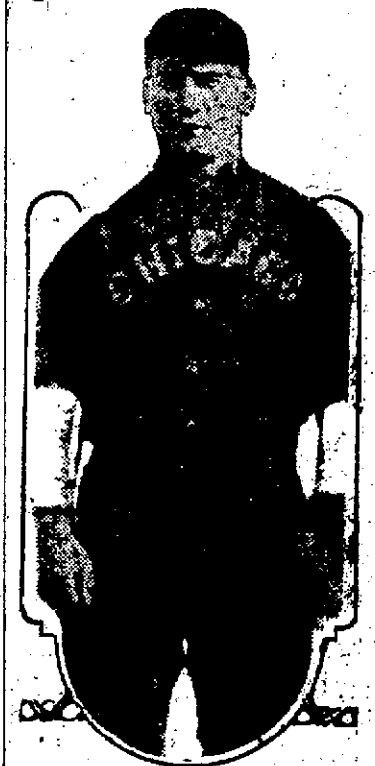

"This season I'll just THINK the things I used to SAY to the umpires last year and maybe then they'll let me stay in the games," says the celebrated umpire, Walter, Heine Zimmerman, who third sacks for the Cubs, when the umpires leave him in the game.

Chicago fans won't believe Heine has reformed, however, until they actually see the miracle with their own eyes. "I am very well impressed with the young players we have gathered this spring, but, of course, I want to see much more of them before I make any decision as to who will be retained," said Manager Griffith of the Senators. "Without exception, the young fellows seem to have ability, but before I can get a correct line on them I want to see them under fire and give them a chance to play with a lot of major league players in condition. That will be the real test. I look for the Nationals to have a good season. I think that our greatest improvement will result from the return to form of several of our players who did not perform up to their standard last season. When they come through, as I feel confident they will, it will make a big difference in our strength."

A New York critic says that the American league has eight Great Shortstops and the National league can show but two. Let's see who were the National league shortstops of 1914: Maxvillie, O'Mara, Fisher, Corriden, Derrick, Herzog, Fletcher, Martin Reed, Wagner, Gerber, Butler, Miller, Berghammer—and only two of the whole lot topnotchers? Lots of people, good judges of baseball, too, would take a ticket on Grandville, O'Mara, Fletcher and Wagner against any five the American league could possibly produce.

"Take it from me," said Frank Bancroft, while some of the athletes were discussing famous bonedead plays, "the oldtimers pulled some bones that had all you youngsters blocked off the map. Best I recollect,

EXPECTED TO FILL PING BODIE'S SHOES

"Big" Feltz, photographed at home.

Among the youngsters with the Chicago White Sox in Chicago, none is giving greater promise than "Big" Feltz, formerly with the Milwaukee Brewers. Feltz is a good hitter, he is fast in the field and can go a long way for a fly ball. He will fill the job left vacant by the dropping of Bodie, according to the general opinion in the Sox training camp.

right now, was sprung by Miah Murray, when he was catching for me at Worcester about 35 years ago. With a runner on first, Miah steamed back to the stand and made a magnificent catch of a foul fly. The crowd broke into roars of applause. Murray, leaning against the stand, took off his cap and bowed right and left—and the runner, sitting up the situation, lit out from first, kept right on going, and came all the way around while Miah kept bowing and the rest of the team were screaming and raving, all in vain!"

No woman victim of the fear that comes to those who have loved ones in the racing game has better grounds for such fear than Darius Resta's young bride. She is a sister of Spencer Wishart, the daring young driver who was killed in the Elgin road race August 22, last.

Culture looks beyond machinery, culture hates hatred; culture has one great passion—the passion for sweetness and light. It has one even yet greater, the passion for making them all prevail. It is not satisfied till we all come to a perfect man; it knows that the sweetness and light of the few must be imperfect until the raw and unkindly masses of humanity are touched with sweetness and light—Matthew Arnold.

THE PROSPECTOR IS EAGER TO DO THE GOOD JUDGE A FAVOR TOO.

ONE good turn deserves another, and it is no small service to have put a man next to a good thing like the Real Tobacco Chew.

But chewers are a big hearted lot—glad to pass the good word along. A little chew of pure, rich, mellow tobacco—cut fine; short shred—seasoned and sweetened just enough, cuts out so much of the grinding and spitting.

Take a very small chew—less than one-quarter the size. It will be more satisfying than a mouthful of ordinary tobacco. Just nibble on it until you find the strength chew that suits you. Tuck it away. Then let it rest. See how easily and evenly the real tobacco taste comes, how it satisfies without grinding, how much less you have to spit, how few chews you take to be tobacco satisfied. That's why it is The Real Tobacco Chew. That's why it costs less in the end.

One small chew takes the place of two big chews of the old kind.

"The Italian" an unusual picture. The Paramount release for Wednesday. The Italian, written by Thomas H. Ince and directed by Thomas H. Ince, produced by Thomas H. Ince, producer of "The Typhoon" and "The Bargain." This is a beautiful picture with a strong human appeal. Its pathos and simplicity touch the heart, and many spectators will be seen wiping their eyes fervently during the trials and sufferings of Beppe and Annette in America. In this film we predict a greater success than "The Typhoon." The picture is well done, the scenery wonderfully beautiful, the details exquisitely carried out, and the photography almost unexcelled. The subject is of a kind much needed in places of amusement to-day. The picture, including subject-matter, is of high quality, and no one could sit through the picture and not feel the touch of love and devotion and forgiveness and gentleness reflected by the simple Italian characters. Because of this, the picture will be shown as a regular program for the matinee only.

Special Orchestra for "Mignon" tonight. "Mignon" in its lyrical form on the grand opera stage, enjoys a popularity which began half a century ago and which increases rather than diminishes with the passing years. This is due to its picturesque and stirring plot, which lends itself so well to film dramatization. "Mignon" is taken from Goethe's immortal "Wilhelm Meister's Apprenticeship," the heroine pictured by the famous soprano, Miss Mignon. In "Mignon" will be found the highest type of photo-dramatic perfection—action, excitement, thrills, beauty and scenery unsurpassed as background for one of the world's most poignant stories and tender romances. As literature, as story, as dramatic plot, "Mignon" occupies a position which no other imaginative work enjoys—a position of popularity with savants and servants, rich and poor. As a motion picture it is a permanent and prominent place in the new art of the photo-drama. An enlarged orchestra will render special music tonight.

From China Painting to Stage May Robson has Never Regretted her Change of Vocation. In private life May Robson, who comes to Myers Theatre Wednesday, March 17, in her new comedy, "Martha By-the-Day," is Mrs. Brown, her husband, Dr. Augustus H. Brown, a physician of eminence in New York City, where the pair have a home. Miss Robson was born in Australia, in the Murembidgee district, where her father, formerly an officer in the East Indian Company, had settled upon his retirement. When a young girl, Miss Robson was sent to Europe and she received her education in Brussels and Paris. When her studies were completed, she first made china painting her vocation, and excelled in that art to a marvelous degree. She came to America with the ambition to establish herself as an artist, but shortly after her arrival an opportunity to adopt the stage, as a profession, presented itself. Miss Robson made her first appearance before the foot-lights as "Tilly" in "The Hoop of Gold," produced by the Mallorys, at the Madison Square Theatre. During that time she appeared in a long line of parts, in the Frohman successes, which ranged in character from ingenues to grand dames. for all of the feminine eccentric parts. Possibly no other actress has been as willing to conceal a pleasing personality with grotesque ugly facial make-up and gowns that do not fit the actress however they may be at the part that she assumes. But these sacrifices have had their advantages, as to-day Miss Robson stands as the premiere character actress of America. Some of her most successful roles, taken from a list of over 150 that she has played, have been Miss Ashford in "The Private Secretary," Elinor in "Nervous," "Veneranda" in "Foregone Conclusions," in which play she appeared with Salvini; Melia in "Lady Bountiful," Kitty in "Gloriana," "Mrs. Brewster" in "Sowing the Wind," "Keziah" in "Lady Huntworth's Experiment," "Barbara Fidgety" in the burlesque of "Barbara Frichtie" put on by Weber and Fields; Mrs. Chapstone in "The Messenger Boy," "Madam Pom-Pom" in "Make Way for the Ladies," and "Aunt Mary" in "The Rejuvenation of Aunt Mary."

Mr. Post is probably the most intellectual actor upon the English speaking stage, and it is his superb mental equipment which helps so much to make his characterization of the lovable Parsian poet and mystic, "Omar Khayyam," in "Omar, the Tentmaker," such a revelation of lofty interpretation.

GERMAN WAR PICTURES SHOWN LAST NIGHT

Large Audience Watch Interesting Pictures at Myers Theatre.

A very large audience viewed the German war pictures, at the Myers Theatre last evening. They may be viewed again tonight. Any doubt as to their genuineness is dispelled by the minute first picture shown and the fact that in many places the Kaiser and Emperor Franz-Joseph may be seen with their troops. The storming and capture of Liege is shown in a gruesome battlefield strewn with dead. Another remarkable reel shows perhaps a hundred thousand people enthusiastic for the cause of the Kaiser, and hurrahing the Fatherland. Another scene shows the mighty war dogs of the Kaiser, the German army, in the bow of the Euphrates. Prisoners of all nationalities are shown in the many detention hospitals. Field hospitals, commissary depots, and the great war are all shown. One picture shows the German field bakery set up in the city hall of Brussels. Artillery guns are shown shooting at the winged travelers. The awful effect of the much discussed 42-centimeter guns is shown on the forts of Namur and Antwerp. Throughout the picture Baron Edmund von Rakowski of Berlin, explains in detail the interesting features of each reel as it is unfolded.
